Thanksgiving

In the United States, many families gather in late November to share a special meal and give thanks. Some people travel to a relative's home; the host prepares a big feast with turkey, stuffing, gravy, pumpkin pie, and cranberry sauce. In the morning, cities often have a parade with bands and giant balloons; on TV, people watch floats march down the streets. After lunch, families talk, play games, or take a short walk. Many people also volunteer at a shelter or donate food to a community pantry. The next day, they enjoy leftovers and share simple stories about the year. Thanksgiving is a time to be thankful for health, home, and friends—and to show kindness to others.

Glossário: gather – reunir / give thanks – agradecer / host – anfitrião(ã) / feast – banquete / stuffing – recheio (do peru) / gravy – molho do assado / pumpkin pie – torta de abóbora / cranberry sauce – molho de cranberry / parade – desfile / float – carro alegórico / march – desfilhar, marchar / volunteer – fazer trabalho voluntário / shelter – abrigo / pantry – despensa comunitária / leftovers – sobras (de comida) / thankful – agradecido(a)

Responda no caderno:

1. Em que período do ano acontece o Thanksgiving?
